Jars of Clay

1 Therefore, since it is by God's mercy that we are engaged in this ministry, we do not lose heart. 2 We have renounced the shameful things that one hides; we refuse to practice cunning or to falsify God's word; but by the open statement of the truth we commend ourselves to the conscience of everyone in the sight of God.

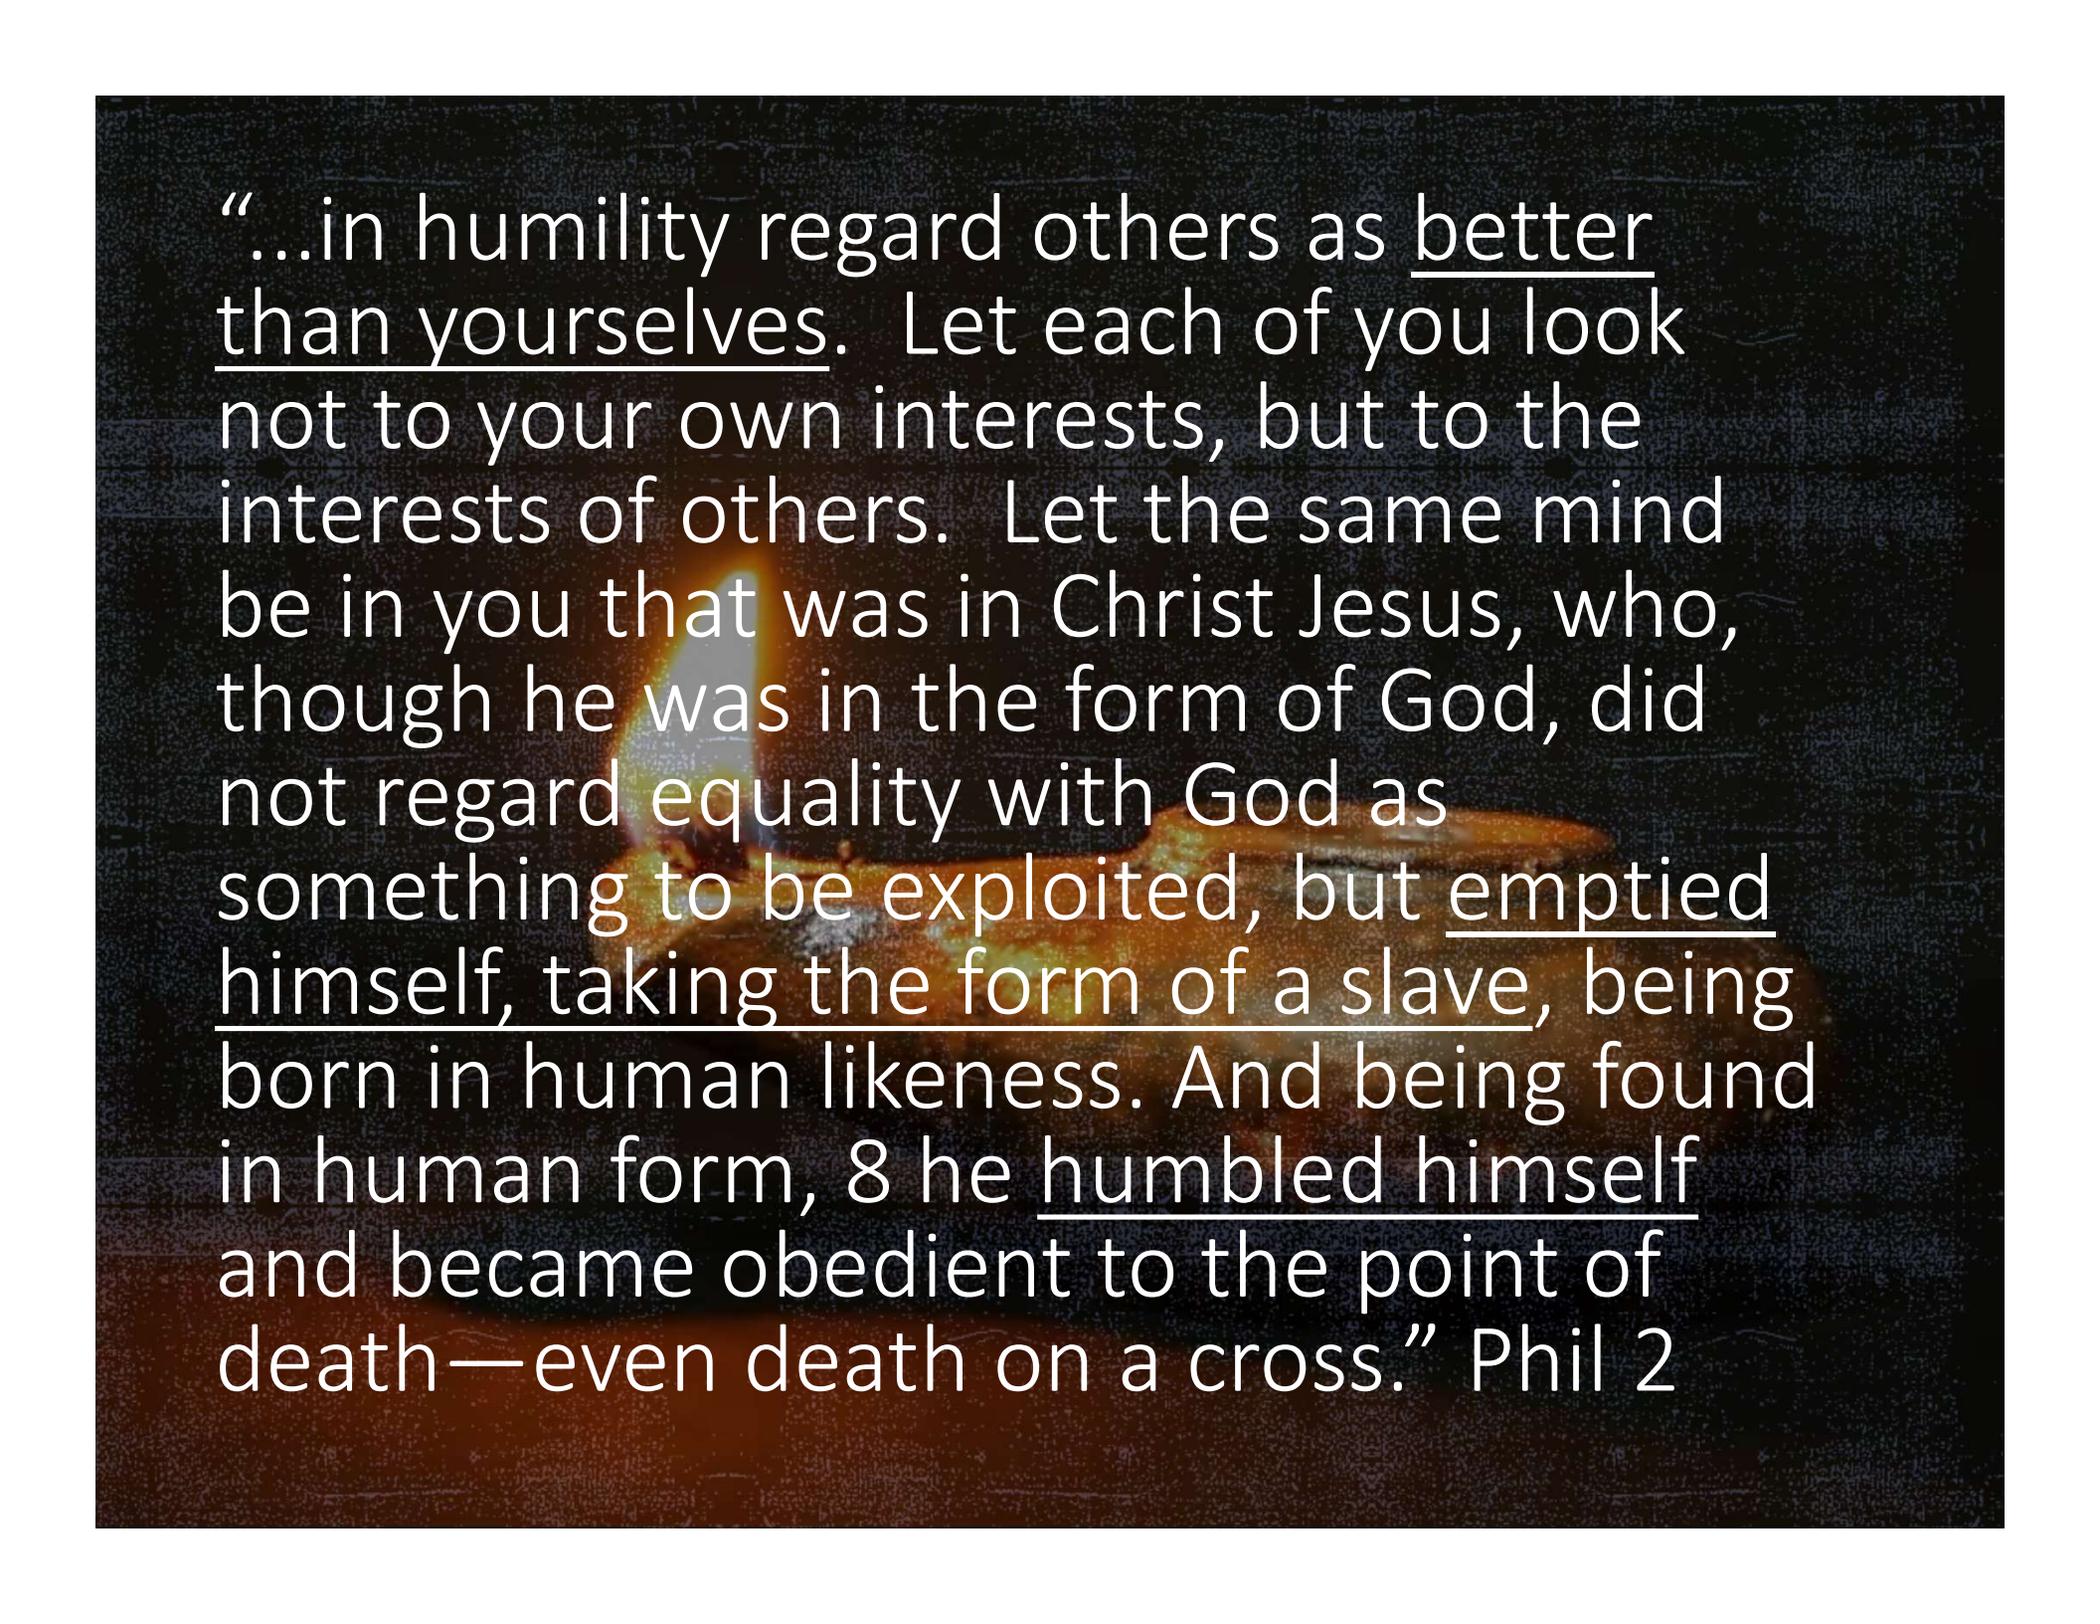

A close-up photograph of a lit candle with a bright flame, set against a dark, textured background. The candle is positioned in the lower center of the frame, and its flame is a bright, glowing yellow and orange. The background is a dark, mottled grey with some subtle textures and patterns. The overall mood is contemplative and focused on the light of the candle.

3 And even if our gospel is veiled,
it is veiled to those who are perishing. 4 In their case the god of this world has blinded the minds of the unbelievers, to keep them from seeing the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God.

A lit candle in a dark, textured container. The candle is lit, with a bright flame and a small amount of smoke rising from it. The container is dark and has a rough, textured surface. The background is dark and textured.

5 For we do not proclaim ourselves; we proclaim Jesus Christ as Lord and ourselves as your slaves for Jesus' sake.

*(literally- because Jesus.)

“...in humility regard others as better than yourselves. Let each of you look not to your own interests, but to the interests of others. Let the same mind be in you that was in Christ Jesus, who, though he was in the form of God, did not regard equality with God as something to be exploited, but emptied himself, taking the form of a slave, being born in human likeness. And being found in human form, & he humbled himself and became obedient to the point of death—even death on a cross.” Phil 2

Baptizing in black? Not white? Even Christ was dressed in white when he was baptized by John the Baptist as a symbol of light and purity...

Went when I was about 8 years old a family friend of ours took me and my friend to a Willy Wonka event and had a nightmare of a time... Kids were trying to get out and they were pushing them back harshly to the point that the kids fell to the ground. But soon enough kids were able to slip through which opened the door to some parents that saw what was happening inside. Lucky my mom showed up early to pick me up and saw us kids being lead down the halls to the room. She hung back bc they told her too and that we were having a fun meeting, but when she saw us through the doors crying she ran up and told the men to move. One of the men started shaking and saying, "We've lost them! We've lost them!" Other parents started to grab their kids and leave as well. ...

Ps: never got any candy. It was a trick to get kids to show. Very Hansel and Gretel esque.

I wish I could give no stars. I was encouraged to jump off a bridge if that's what I wanted to do. They put up a good front but at its core this isn't a house of God or not the God of love they claim to worship. The devil lives here.

Wacky week program, do not let your kids go... I really disappointed. They didn't even reward children with jewel tickets. Horrible treatment. So boring, no snacks, no water and they had a headache.

TAX THE CHURCHES

★☆☆☆☆ 4 months ago

...I found an arrogant swagger among staff members as they sip their coffee and point out in passing that not everyone will agree with the tenets of this Church. They seem to smugly wear this sentiment as a badge of honor. I mention coffee because only staff have access to it, the Church doesn't provide the customary beverage for common folk like us.

There was a completely out of control dog, running amock in the parking lot, in the building, tripping people, ect. Know what they told him? "Please pick up your dog, sir". Make your own call on that. I personally cant trust a person or establishment that dislikes dogs.

Spiritually powerful place. The homeless out front sometimes are a little unusual.

I went to the basement and nobody would stop talking... There were also Feral Ghouls everywhere.

4 In their case the god of this world has blinded the minds of the unbelievers, to keep them from seeing the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God.

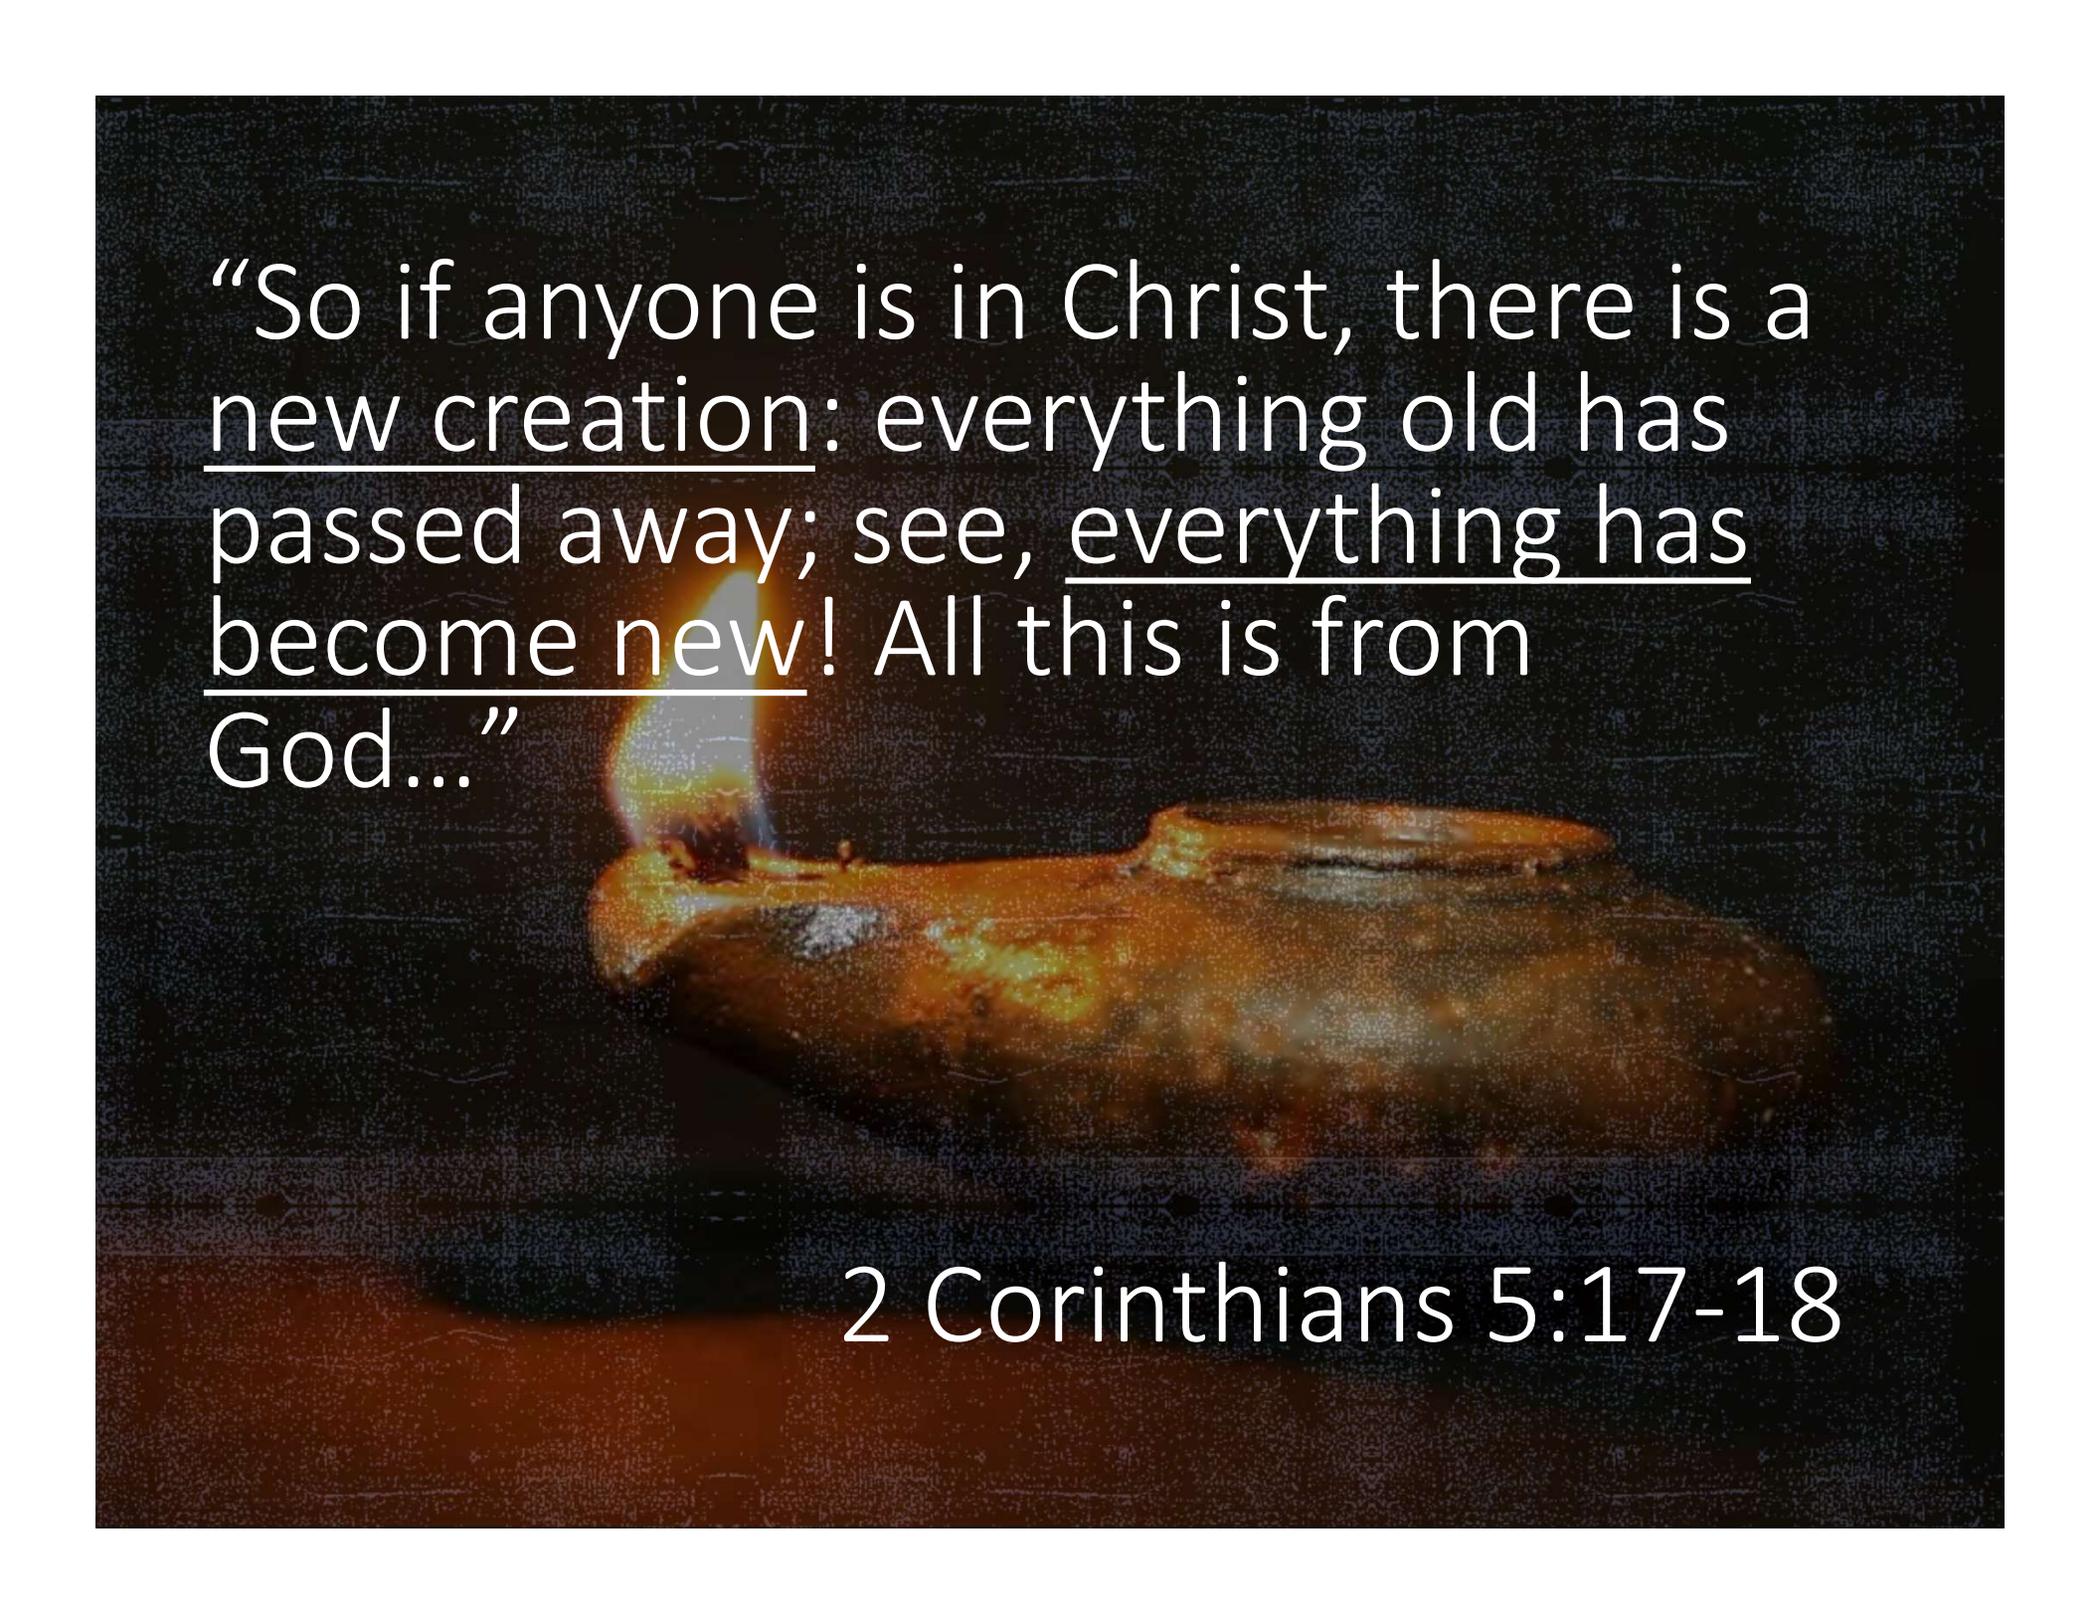

5 For we do not proclaim ourselves; we proclaim Jesus Christ as Lord and ourselves as your slaves for Jesus' sake.

6 For it is the God who said, "Let light shine out of darkness," who has shone in our hearts to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

7 But we have this treasure in clay jars*, so that it may be made clear that this extraordinary power belongs to God and does not come from us.

*literally- earthen vessels

“So if anyone is in Christ, there is a new creation: everything old has passed away; see, everything has become new! All this is from God...”

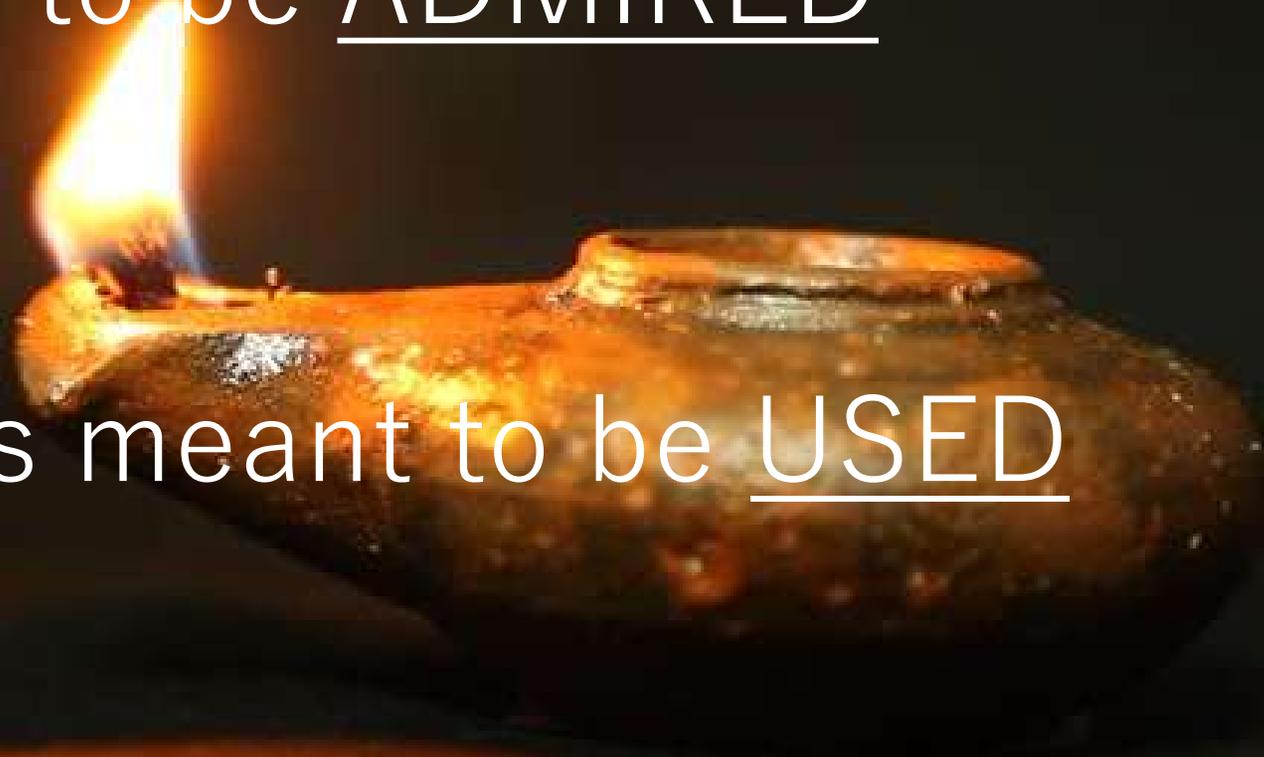

2 Corinthians 5:17-18

7 But we have this treasure in clay jars, so that it may be made clear that this extraordinary power belongs to God and does not come from us.

A jar of clay is not meant to be ADMIRED

It is meant to be USED

A lit candle in a dark setting, with the flame illuminating the surrounding area. The candle is positioned in the center-right of the frame, and its flame is bright and glowing. The background is dark and textured, possibly a wall or a piece of fabric. The overall mood is somber and contemplative.

8 We are afflicted in every way, but not crushed; perplexed, but not driven to despair; 9 persecuted, but not forsaken; struck down, but not destroyed; 10 always carrying in the body the death of Jesus, so that the life of Jesus may also be made visible in our bodies.

11 For while we live, we are always being given up to death for Jesus' sake, so that the life of Jesus may be made visible in our mortal flesh. 12 So death is at work in us, but life in you.
